UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

PUBLIC POLICY CENTER

Director (7/98 to present)

The mission of the NU Public Policy Center (PPC) is to inform public policy by facilitating, developing, and making available objective research and analysis on issues important to Nebraskans, the region, the nation, and/or international constituents. The PPC is a research and engagement unit, serving elected and appointed officials; federal, state and local agency staff; the public at large; and others who represent policy interests. The Center started in July 1998 as a system-wide unit working with the five campuses of the University of Nebraska: University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL), University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC), University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO), University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK), and University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture & Natural Resources (IANR). The PPC now works primarily with faculty and students from the UNL campus, but still collaborates with faculty from the other NU campuses. The Public Policy Center conducts between 25-40 projects at any one time, primarily in one of five target areas: (1) Access, Equity, and Fairness in Government Services; (2) Application of Information Technology to Health & Human Services Delivery Systems; (3) Behavioral Health and Human Services; (4) Deliberation, Democracy, and Public Participation; and (5) Water Science, Law, and Policy. The Center's budget is almost exclusively derived from state and federal grants and contracts (director's salary and benefits are funded by UNL); expenditures have increased from approximately $150,000-200,000 in FY 1998-1999 to approximately $2,000,000 annually for FY 2002-03, and approximately $2.5 million since FY 2004-05. The Center employs about 40 staff members (research staff, support staff, and students). The Center reports directly to the UNL Senior Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs (provost).
